VistaVu expands operations in Denver

Oil and gas software leader adds Rocky Mountain-focused SAP Business One practice to its growing portfolio.

CALGARY, January 10 – The U.S. Rocky Mountain region is home to some of the most vigorous activity in the North American oil and gas industry today. To better serve the needs of the region’s oil and gas service companies, VistaVu Solutions is expanding its Denver-based operations.

The company announced today that it has purchased the SAP Business One practice of a top Denver software company.

“This acquisition is both exciting and strategically important, as it will solidify our presence in the Rocky Mountain region,” says Jory Lamb, President and CEO of VistaVu Solutions. “The addition of expertise in this market strengthens and broadens our overall client offering.”

VistaVu’s core offering to oil and gas service companies is called FieldVu. Powered by SAP Business One, FieldVu lets companies monitor and manage a range of essential functions. These include Inventory Management, Field Ticketing, Rentals, Dispatch, Job Costing, Labor Tracking and Preventative Asset Maintenance.

Lamb explains that while the U.S. and Canadian oil and gas industries have significant differences, FieldVu has been embraced by companies on both sides of the border.

“If you provide field services to oil and gas companies, you make your money based on how efficiently you deploy your people and manage your assets,” he says. “Once companies are able to see the whole picture with FieldVu, it changes the game. With our expanded presence in Denver, we’ll be taking this story throughout the U.S. Rocky Mountain region.”
